

Tango Orange Can / A Working Class Love Story

I see it in the gestures
And I hear it when you reference
A true moment of connection
When you're quoting 'Eastenders'

In the spark in your face
When the film takes place
On a street we could know
In a town we might've grown

Certain classics unknown
To a middle class soul
Peter Kay DVDS, Dib Dabs and mushy peas
You call back to these things with ease

To share a past with someone who
Before right now, you never knew
And laugh about a time and place,
Lived differently, apart, at a separate pace

It's a beautiful thing,
What you and I have, my man
And to see you smile
When you see, on screen, a Tango Orange can.
