

It Can Happen

Whoopsie daisy, I fell in love!
A simple flash of something from above,
And look at me now, smiling the day away,
Hoping these here cards fall where they may.
Oh, aren't you pretty?
Aren't you a laugh?
I'm so glad you met me,
'Cos I just wanted to ask:
If we could do this forever?
This silly little game -
If our big hearts could stay tethered,
And we could give this love a name.
Let's call it what it is,
Let's admit how we feel,
I'm sat where I sit,
I know this is real,
And that you do love me,
I'm glad you exist.
You know my happy places,
And the people that make me tick.
The ticking away of time can be so
Hurtful to see and feel -
I want my life to be just this moment,
As we smile and wait for our meal.
If this was all there ever was,
You wouldn't hear a peep from me,
I'd be the luckiest lover in the whole, wide world,
And you'd be the most beautiful girl I ever did see.
